SEXUAL AND GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE (SGBV)

What is SGBV?

SEXUAL AND GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE (SGBV) is violence directed against a person based on their sex, gender or gender identity. SGBV includes acts that cause physical, mental or sexual harm or suffering, threats with such acts, coercion and other deprivations of liberty.

Perpetrators often use force, coercion, deception or manipulation. Most often SGBV is not recognised or reported.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE can take many forms and includes rape, injury to or unwanted touching of the private parts, being forced to have sex with someone, being forced to watch someone else being sexually violated, being forced to be naked, and much more. Sexual violence is not sex. It is about violence, power, and control.

OTHER EXAMPLES OF SGBV INCLUDE violence which takes place within the family; being forced to marry, to have a baby or to have an abortion; being harassed with unwanted looks, remarks or gestures; being transported to another country in exchange for money, sexual acts or labour; honor crimes; and female genital mutilation; being forced to follow a religion you don’t want to, being spied or followed.

If you think or suspect that violence is happening to you or even if you are unsure, you can ask for help.

To whom can SGBV happen?

SGBV can happen to ANYONE and is NEVER the victim’s fault.

Women and men, girls and boys, adults and children can all become victims of SGBV. Sometimes violence is directed at someone because of who they love or because they are vulnerable. No matter what, violence is NEVER justifiable.

Majority SGBV refers to women and girls, who represent the largest group affected. However the lack of data on the incidence of SGBV perpetrated against men and boys does not mean that they do not suffer SGBV, but rather that coming forward is problematic.

What is the difference between sex, gender and gender identity?

A person’s SEX is assigned at birth based on anatomical and biological factors, while GENDER is how society believes that people should behave (how they should dress and present themselves, what their roles and responsibilities should be, etc.) according to their biological sex.

A person’s GENDER IDENTITY refers to each person’s deeply felt internal and individual experience of gender. This may or may not correspond with the sex assigned at birth, including the personal sense of the body (which may involve, if freely chosen, modification of bodily appearance or function by medical, surgical or other means) and other expressions of gender, including dress, speech and mannerisms.
What are the consequences of SGBV?

SGBV can have both physical and emotional consequences. Physically SGBV can cause bodily harm, pain, infections and women and girls can become pregnant without wanting to, among other consequences. The emotional consequences of SGBV can include trauma, nightmares, insomnia, headaches, and many different feelings such as anger, shame, sadness, guilt, fear. All feelings are valid, and Croatia has professional and confidential services to support victims. You are NOT alone.

Where can SGBV happen?

SGBV can happen ANYWHERE: in your home country, during your journey to another country and in the country, you are currently living in. It can happen in public places and private homes, at work, in detention centres and prisons, during random stops and at checkpoints.

Is SGBV my fault?

SGBV is NEVER the victim’s fault. Gender norms and unequal power relations are the root causes of SGBV. The perpetrator is the only person to blame.

What if I did not fight back?

It is very common not to fight back during an assault because you may panic and feel hopeless or trapped and you don’t know what to do to get out of the situation. This does not mean that you consented to the violence.

Remember that you can always change your mind, even if you previously agreed to something.

What if I am asked for sex in exchange for money, help or other goods?

Nobody has the right to force you to have sex or to get you to agree to have sex in exchange for something you may need or want.

If someone forces you to have sex in exchange for money, help or other goods, it is sexual exploitation and a form of sexual violence.

What are the consequences of SGBV?

SGBV can have both physical and emotional consequences. Physically SGBV can cause bodily harm, pain, infections and women and girls can become pregnant without wanting to, among other consequences. The emotional consequences of SGBV can include trauma, nightmares, insomnia, headaches, and many different feelings such as anger, shame, sadness, guilt, fear. All feelings are valid, and Croatia has professional and confidential services to support victims. You are NOT alone.

REMEMBER

ANYONE can become a victim of SGBV
SGBV is NEVER the victim’s fault
SGBV is always UNACCEPTABLE
You can ask for HELP
What can I do if I or someone I know has experienced or witnessed SGBV?

If you or someone you know experience or witness SGBV you can tell a family member, a relative or another adult you trust. You are NOT alone. You can always ask for help from the staff of the asylum or accommodation center where you live or from your legal representative or guardian. There are also other people who can help you in a confidential way, such as teachers, social workers, police officers and doctors. In addition, you can contact migrant and refugee organizations, women’s and youth organizations.

You can call the following telephone numbers to contact emergency services:

CROATIAN POLICE: 112 or 192
